The descriptions and loss scenarios below and on the following pages help to illustrate common exposures your credit union may face. They also demonstrate the multitude of ways CUNA Mutual Group's Management and Professional Liability helps to protect and mitigate your unique risks. Coverage is dependent upon your policy and the actual facts of the claim(s).

COVERAGE	DESCRIPTION	LOSS SCENARIO(S)
MANAGEMENT LIABILITY	Protects your credit union and the personal assets of your directors, officers, volunteers and employees against lawsuits related to management of the credit union. The coverage has three core grants including individual coverage, reimbursement coverage, and entity coverage. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Individual coverage pays on behalf of Insured Persons for Loss as a result of a Claim for a Wrongful Management Liability Act in which the Insured Persons are not able to be indemnified by the Credit Union. • Reimbursement coverage pays on behalf of the Credit Union for Loss as a result of a Claim and as a result of its obligation to indemnify its Directors and Officers for a Wrongful Management Liability Act. • Entity coverage pays on behalf of the Credit Union for Loss as a result of a Claim for a Wrongful Management Liability Act alleged against the credit union. Individual coverage is non-rescindable.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • At the request of the CEO, the board approves an investment policy that includes investing in sub-prime mortgage backed securities. The investments eventually turn worthless due to the poor quality of the mortgages resulting in the credit union having to write-off the entire investment. As a result, the capital position of the credit union falls to the point where the regulator puts it into conservatorship. The regulator then sues the board for breach of its due diligence responsibility in understanding the true risks associated with the investment it approved. • A suit alleges that credit union directors breached their duty in terms of management oversight responsibilities, with the credit union and board named as defendants, both are faced with defense and potential compensatory damages after being found to be legally liable. • Members suffer from a rash of phishing scams and allege that the credit union neglected its duty in adequately informing and educating the membership on how to identify and avoid such scams. This claim example is not applicable without entity coverage.
THE FOLLOWING ENHANCED COVERAGES MAY BE PURCHASED WITH THE CORE COVERAGES OF MANAGEMENT LIABILITY:
DIRECTOR AND OFFICER UMBRELLA	Provides a stand-alone limit to selected Insured Persons for a Wrongful Management Liability Act in the event the Insured Organization is unable to indemnify them due to insolvency or legal restrictions. In addition, the following exclusions are removed for purposes of determining coverage under the Director and Officer Umbrella: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pollution or Nuclear • Insured vs. Insured • Personal Injury, Bodily Injury or Property • Other Wrongful Acts • Intellectual Property • Professional Services • Green Mail The Director and Officer Umbrella coverage is non-rescindable.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A credit union becomes insolvent due to a loan program and is therefore unable to indemnify its board. • A board is sued by members and employees for a breach of fiduciary duty. A court awards the members and employees $3 million but the individual coverage limit is only $2 million.
INVESTIGATIVE COSTS	Pays on behalf of the credit union the reasonable costs and expenses incurred, including those incurred by its directors or officers, in connection with the credit union's investigation or evaluation of a written demand made against the board of directors for a Wrongful Management Liability Act.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A credit union board receives a written demand alleging breach of fiduciary duty related to transactions that occurred ten years prior. Due to imperfect record keeping, the board decides to hire a forensic accountant to examine the ten year old transactions.
DIRECTOR AND OFFICER ID THEFT	Pays up to $7,500 for various costs, such as time off of work, child care, or notarizing affidavits, associated with restoring ones identification as a result of ID Theft.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A Director has his/her ID stolen and needs to restore their credit. In doing so, they have to take several unpaid days off of work and complete numerous affidavits.

COVERAGE	DESCRIPTION	LOSS SCENARIO(S)
EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES LIABILITY	Protects the credit union and other insured persons such as Directors, Officers or Employees for Loss they are legally obligated to pay related to current, past, future or prospective employment for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Violation of any state, federal, or provincial law, anywhere in the world, prohibiting discrimination against employees • Wrongful dismissal, discharge or termination (including constructive discharge) of employment • Sexual or workplace harassment • Violation of employment laws • Negligent evaluation, training or retention • Wrongful, unfair or excessive discipline or retaliation • Failure to provide adequate workplace, employment policies or procedures • Failure to promote, train, grant variable pay, or grant tenure • Breach of an employment contract, whether actual, implied, written or oral • Misrepresentation or misstatement • Negligent supervision or hiring of others • Failure to employ • Libel, slander, defamation of character, publication of material in violation of a person's right of privacy; • Infliction of emotional distress, mental anguish or humiliation • Negligent retention • Hostile work environment 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A Board of Directors fires the Branch Manager of a credit union because of poor performance. The Branch Manager sues the credit union and the Board of Directors for age discrimination, wrongful termination, and defamation. The Branch Manager does not have a specific employment contract with the credit union. • A credit union is sued by two former employees, alleging sexual harassment and infliction of emotional distress. • A credit union and its Personnel Manager are sued for wrongful discipline after conflicts with an employee on job performance issues (assuming no specific contract). • An applicant for employment at a credit union is not hired and sues the credit union, alleging discriminatory hiring practices.
THE EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES LIABILITY COVERAGE ALSO INCLUDES AN OPTIONAL ENHANCED COVERAGE FOR DEFENSE COSTS FOR FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT.
